NOTE FOR YOUR FAVORITE TEACHER. This is the kind of June weather that brings into active play all the "sweet to do nothing" feeling of which man is capable. A PHILADELPHIA MAN was not content to wait for annexation. He has eloped with his pretty Canadian girl. The fact that one of its residents has roused himself to such a rapid course of action should be full of encouragement to the often slumberous Quaker City.

NEXT Saturday, in one of Chicago's cemeteries, a monument in honor of the five Anarchists who were hanged in November, 1887, will be unveiled with "appropriate occasion and ceremony." There will doubtless be a multitude of people present—men, women and children—a colony of sympathizers who will probably pose as "martyrs" of the law-defiers who were justly hanged for their crimes. Why should the monument be permitted? What better way to breed sentiment of ugliness, corruption and further degradation among a depraved class of individuals who already smart under the restrictive potency of enforced law and order?

It is always safer to think twice before you act once, at least in cases in which the life of a human being is involved. A mob at Milan, Italy, lynched a man supposed to have been Jim Bennett, a notorious criminal. At Cheswick, this state, 100 men armed with revolvers, Winchester rifles and shotguns, besieged a man who, according to accounts in one of the morning papers had committed forty burglaries in the vicinity. The man was plucky, stood his ground, but was eventually compelled to surrender, with eleven bullets in his body fired into him by that 100 brave men. Instead of a burglar the wounded man turned out to be a much respected, harmless employe in the Fourth street office of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, who, laboring under mental depression, had incidentally wandered into a house where he was mistaken for a regular desperado.

A RARE TRIP. Americans who go to the World's Fair need not be surprised if they see along the water front vessels from all parts of the world. Although Chicago is in the centre of the continent, it is in reality a sea-port for all except the largest ocean steamships. It is about 25,000 miles around the earth, so the city furthest away from a given point can be 13,000 miles distant. If you go farther than this in one direction, you are nearer in the other. Calcutta is opposite Chicago on the other side of the world, and may be called its antipodes. Starting at Calcutta, a steam vessel of 1,500 tons can arrive at the Columbian Exposition in about 60 days. It would sail through the Indian Ocean, the Arabian Sea, then up the Red Sea and through the Suez Canal, then down the Mediterranean and out upon the Atlantic by the Strait of Gibraltar. Arriving in American waters, she would enter the Gulf of St. Lawrence, then steam up the St. Lawrence River, through the Lachine Canal at Montreal into Lake Ontario, and around Niagara Falls by the Welland Canal, then by Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair, Lake Huron, the Straits of Mackinac and Lake Michigan, to the very doors of the big show.

It will be a trip rich in interesting sights, and, as the locks of the canals have been so enlarged during recent years as to hold vessels 240 feet long, with a draft of 14 feet, many European yachtsmen are now planning to make the cruise. If the fair had been held fifty years later, people from all parts of the world could have come to Chicago by rail. An exploring party, under Chief Engineer Fausch, is now making surveys in Alaska and have already reported to the New York and British capitalists who sent them out that it is practicable to build an all rail line to Europe. Behring Strait is only 35 miles across, and by using islands for the piers, a cantilever bridge could be stretched from the Western to the Eastern Hemisphere. The Russian government is building a railroad through Siberia which would connect with the one through Alaska, and when these plans are carried out a rich man can ride in his palace car from New York to Paris. A bridge over the Suez Canal would take him to Africa, and the proposed tunnel under the English Channel would enable him to reach London in the same easy fashion without the pangs of sea-sickness.

Annual Day at Lafayette College. Lafayette, June 21.—Yesterday was annual day at Lafayette college and they made the most of it. The literary societies held their annual convocations at 10 o'clock. J. S. Hamaker, of Jersey City, was the orator before Franklin Hall, and Rev. Ford O'Brien, of Newark, in Washington Hall. Professor W. W. Kern, M. D., L. D., of Philadelphia, delivered the oration before the trustees, mostly on the subject of the "Clashes of Medicine as a Career for Educated Men." Class reunions were held at noon and athletic sports in the afternoon.

Hold a Hundred Men at Bay. Philadelphia, June 21.—A party of 100 armed men at bay all night at Cheswick, and only one captured when they determined upon being out of the building he was in. For ten hours a steady rain fell, and on both sides, and when captured one of the robbers' eyes had been shot out, and his left arm disabled by a bullet. Inert is supposed to have been captured in city territory in West Chester, Pennsylvania during the past two weeks.

Was Disappointed in Love Too. Philadelphia, June 21.—The motive for the recent suicide of Watchman Elmer (Hamilton), which occurred at Atlantic City, is believed to have been dependent over his discharge a week ago from Sheriff's office and fellow works, at Oxford and Maschof streets. It is also hinted that he had been disappointed in love, as he had been paying attention to a young woman here, who was seen in his company on Sunday and to whom he is said to have been engaged.

Suddenly Regained His Sight. Reading, June 21.—While sitting under a large shade tree in front of his home at South Mountain, David McCallister, aged 74 years, who had been blind for over four years, suddenly recovered his eyesight. There appears to have been no special cause for this recovery, but the fact remains that while for several years he could not see with or without spectacles, now he can easily read fine print with the natural eye.

Sumner County Democrats Meet. Sumner, June 21.—The Democratic county convention here was presided over by Hon. A. H. Coffroth. John H. Uhl and J. M. Oats were elected delegates to the state convention. Strong resolutions were adopted regarding the national and state administrations, Secretary Harry and Chairman Wright. A resolution was passed demanding the repeal of the Sherman silver bullion purchase law.

Hit Over the Eye With a Shotgun. Harrisburg, June 21.—Wm. H. Maxwell, of 127 Boston street, narrowly escaped being hit in the eye while working in a shop at the Pennsylvania steel works, Steelton. The accident occurred through his helper driving a key into a frog, when through some mistake the steel hit Wm. Maxwell over the left eye. He was brought to his home in this city immediately. His condition is serious.

May Abandon the Relief Association. Lancaster, June 21.—There is a rumor in this city that the Relief Association is about abolishing its relief association and that the employees will be permitted to join such railroad organization as they may think best.

A New Company Chartered. Harrisburg, June 21.—The Penn. Pulp Mills Company, of Philadelphia, to manufacture lumber supplies, capital $15,000, was chartered yesterday.

Postmasters Appointed Yesterday. WASHINGTON, June 21.—The total number of fourth-class postmasters appointed yesterday was 137, of which 55 were to fill vacancies caused by resignation and death.

MRS. BALDWIN'S CASE SETTLED. Alleged That She Had No Grounds for Complaint Against the Central Railroad. New York, June 21.—The suit of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth G. Baldwin, the wife of Homer E. Baldwin, against the New York Central & Hudson River railroad company, which was brought to recover $50,000 damages for injuries sustained by her at the Hastings disaster in 1891, has been settled.

When the case was called Mr. Fox announced that it had been settled, and it was so marked on the calendar by Justice Barrett. It was alleged on the part of the company in this suit that Mrs. Baldwin was riding on the train on a pass issued in the name of Mrs. Baldwin and that therefore she was a trespasser, and the company was not liable for damages.

DOMESTIC COMPANIES' STATEMENT. Assets and Liabilities of the Concerns Announced by the Receiver. NEWARK, N. J., June 21.—Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, receiver of the Domestic Manufacturing and Domestic Sewing Machine Company has received a report of the assets and liabilities of the two concerns. The report is as follows:

Glennan Ten III to Plead. LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 21.—Before Justice Barrett yesterday County Judge Van Yechten withdrew his plea of not guilty entered in the indictments against ex-City Clerk Thomas F. Burke and Philip Coffey for conspiracy, and interposed a demurrer. District Attorney John Fleming called for the plea of ex-Mayor Glennan in the indictment for conspiracy in selling the city a worthless steam fire engine for $2,200.

Presidential Appointments. WASHINGTON, June 21.—The President yesterday made the following appointments:

Paul B. Tremuel, of Georgia, to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Georgia.

Felix G. Rudolph, of Kentucky, to be Surveyor of Customs for the port of Paducah, Ky.

Smuggling Schemes Unearthed. NEW YORK, June 21.—Special Treasury Inspectors Morton Britton and Captain Swaid, of the Special Agents department, at this port, have unearthed a big smuggling scheme captured over 100,000 valuable skeins for silk looms, and have arrested Antony Choret, Superintendent of the West New York Silk Mills company. These mills are at West New York, Hudson county, N. J.

Van Horn's Strange Death. NEW YORK, June 21.—The relatives of Van Horn claim that Van Horn was found dead in his room at 154 South Fourth street, Williamsburg. They said today that they did not believe Van Horn had met with foul play. From what they had learned Van Horn was found dead in a bed about five miles from Susquehanna. He was subject to heart disease.

Applying for a Reapportionment. NEW YORK, June 21.—Lawyer F. E. Bernard yesterday served papers upon Mayor Boody, of Brooklyn, in an application for a writ of mandamus to be applied for July 1, to the Supreme court and which if granted will compel the Board of Supervisors to make another reapportionment of the assembly districts in Kings county.

Chemical Wood Pulp Mill Burned. Troy, N. Y., June 21.—A fire, caused by spontaneous combustion, damaged the chemical pulp mill of Hon. George West at Salisbury, yesterday, to the extent of between $23,000 and $40,000. The mill is insured for $55,000.

HAD NEVER SEEN ROSES. A Patriotic Incident in the Walls' School at Pittsburgh. Two ladies, managers, came into the walls' school at Pittsburgh the other morning shortly after it had opened. One of them wore a beautiful jaeger-mit rose, on which the eyes of the whole school were at once turned admiringly. Noting this, the owner of the flower gave it to one of the teachers for the children.

"Now, children, how many of you know what this is?" asked the young lady, holding up the flower. Nearly every little one shook his head to indicate ignorance.

One small boy and a couple of little girls piped out with great importance: "It's a rose, please mamma."

But no one had ever heard of a rose. Most of the children had never seen one before. The flower was passed along the line and small noses lingered longingly over its fragrance, while dainty little palms patted its velvet petals curiously. No one saw or thought of anything that morning but the rose. The teacher put it in a glass of water to preserve it, and when school was dismissed each child was rendered supremely blissful by the gift of a tiny petal. As they filed out of the door each little waif clutched his treasure tightly in his small hand, while he murmured softly to himself the name "Pitty wose, pity wose."

Raised from the Dead Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, loins and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 75 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla and am now a well woman. I weigh 125 lbs., eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.
